Palya Palyanma Pipirri Wiima Tjutaku
- Doing Good for Little Kids

Our A4 88-page colour book “Pipirri Palya - Kids are Good” project is about the Indigenous Child Care Conference Waltja held where participants discussed ways to help the little kids and their child care services on the communities. “Pipirri Palya - Kids are Good” played a very important role in acknowledging the contribution of grandparents and great grandparents, and their skills and experience in child rearing practices.

“Pipirri Palya -Kids are good” belongs to, and is the intellectual property of the Waltja Tjutangku Palyapayi Aboriginal Corporation, and the women and families who worked on this project.

The Commonwealth Department of Family and Community Services have funded this resource. This book forms the final part of a three stage project, which can be purchased through Waltja. We ask you to respect this, and our Aboriginal culture, and not to use this book or reproduce any part of it without permission from Waltja Tjutangku Palyapayi Aboriginal Corporation. This includes storage in a retrieval system, or transmitted in a form by any means; electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise.
